The GDPR essentially creates a new position of the data protection officer in public and many private organisations. Data protection officers will be empowered to independently ensure compliance with the new data protection regime. Even for private organisations not obliged to formally appoint a DPO, there will be a need to develop an experienced and knowledgeable privacy professional to manage compliance and security risks. The GDPR brings many new and stricter requirements challenging the skills of all privacy professionals. DPOs will gain rapid visibility and career opportunities since they are required to report directly to top management. These new roles will be very active in passing the message of controlling privacy risks and monitoring compliance with the requirements (and the benefits) of the new GDPR throughout the organisations.

TAKING DATA PROTECTION REGIME INTO THE 21ST CENTURY AND THE ROLE AND RESPONSIBILITY OF THE DPO

The new GDPR framework and need for data protection officer can be useful instruments to implement the fundamental changes many organisations need to streamline their IT and data processes and get full control over their IT platforms and databases. The role of the DPO is vital to facilitate;

- Adherence by all parties concerned to an approved code of conduct to achieve GDPR compliance
- Demonstrate compliance with the obligations of all stakeholders including the data controller and allow data subjects to evaluate the level of data protection of products and services
- Implement controls for the exchange of information by electronic means between stakeholders (controllers, processors and supervisory authorities) for binding corporate rules and mutual assistance
- Enhance transparency and compliance with GDPR to ensure adequate standards of protection to and by a third party, country or territory or a specified sector within standard GDPR protection clauses; formats and procedures

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

- DPOs, CIOs/CTOs
- Internal Audit Managers and Staff
- CISO
- IT Security Officers
- Information Security Managers
- IT Directors and Managers
- IT Analysts/IT Auditors
- IT and Data Consultants and project managers involved in data protection, information security or cyber security issues
- IT and Data Consultants and project managers that participate in GDPR projects.
- Individuals with some IT experience who want to qualify on GDPR issues.

QUALIFICATION:

Achieve the EU GDPR FAS qualification. The exam (certification) is optional and can be taken the same day on line.
