

Kersi F. Porbunderwalla

Is the President and CEO of The EUGDPR Institute and Secretary-General of Copenhagen Compliance®. He functions as an advisor, teacher, instructor, researcher, commentator and practitioner on Data Protection and Data Privacy, Governance, Risk Management, Compliance and IT security (GRC), Bribery, Fraud and Corruption (BFC) and Corporate Social/Stakeholder Responsibility (CSR) issues.

Kersi was an associate professor, examiner and tutor at the Copenhagen Business School (CBS) from 1984-1993. Currently, he lectures at The Govt. Law College (Thrissur, India) Georgetown University (Washington) and Fordham University (New York). Kersi conducts workshops & provides guidance on GRC/CSR/BFC issues. The list includes several global and medium-sized companies like Volvo, IBM, Shell, ExxonMobil, Lundin Mining, BP and The Tata Group. (A full list is available on request).

Kersi is a graduate in accounting and finance. Kersi also functions as an executive business coach with extensive experience in implementing change projects, optimising GRC/BFC/CSR processes. He is a member of Danish Financial Analyst Association, Danish Lawyers & Economists Association, Confederation of Danish Industries, British and Nordic Indian Business Chamber of Commerce.

Kersi was a director at RGP, a US stock listed consultancy company since 2007. He is the founder and secretary general of Copenhagen Compliance®, Riskability, RegComTech and The EUGDPR Institute. Kersi is a global speaker and conducted several hundred workshops on Data Privacy, GRC and IT Security issues on four continents.